The annual meeting opened at 10 a.m. with John A. Smith, president, in charge. Mr. Smith introduced A. C. Wimpee, director of narcotic education, who took over as master of ceremonies.

The Yoe High School chorus of 29 voices, directed by Francis Cox, presented a 15-minute program of popular songs before County Judge Charles C. Smith, Jr. made the principal address.

The Judge called for a $2,000,000 bond issue and the adoption of the "unit system" to solve the county's rural road problem. Judge Smith said the $2,000,000 "without increasing the present total state and county tax rate bond issue could be financed of $1.47 per $100 valuation."

Smith said the county's road system was "model T's and horse drawn farm vehicles", and that money spent to maintain these rural roads for present-day 60 mile-an-hour traffic is wasted. "It is imperative that we comple-

Junior Class To Present Comedy February 26

Members of the Junior Class of Yoe High School will present a comedy in 3 acts, 'Don't Darken My Door,' at 8 o'clock Friday night, February 26.

When a girl reads too many romances what chance has a mere man to win her.

Rosemary wanted a lover like the one in "Hearts Aflame" and she had no time for Tom. Her admiring maid, Poppy, felt the same way (in fact, she read the same romances), and poor Alec, the gardener, was in despair over Poppy's sudden coldness.

Then the author of the romantic book appears. She's a maiden lady with a kind heart and she sets about repairing the damage her books have done.

Her plans are climaxed by an elopement in which everybody has a hand.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER WANTS TO SEE MONEY - RAISING DRIVE STARTED TO STAMP OUT IN ROADS OF THE BAD COLD

Editor's note: The Little River Philosopher on his Johnson grass idea this week, but we don't know whether he'll get anywhere with it.

Dear editar:

It's sometimes hard to tell just by lookin when I'm under the weather as I don't rip and tear much even when I'm in the best of health, I always figured if feelin good meant you had to get into motion and burn up your energy you might, as well feel bad to start with, after years of practice I've managed to sit still and enjoy health as much as the fellow on the run, but what I started out to say was that lately I've been sort of under the weather, with a bad cold.

And I've been thinkin. We've got nearly every kind of money-raisin drive you can think of in this country, with the exception maybe of one to raise money to stamp out ingrowing toenails, but there ought to be one more.

There ought to be a drive on all over the country to set up a fund to figure out how to whip a bad cold. Personally I don't think man has any business spendin money for example on rocket ships to explore space before he finds out how to cure a cold. And if you ask me, color television has no more business comin ahead of a prevention for the common cold than holdin office has comin ahead of gettin elected. I can't think of anything more ridiculous than a high-toned, expensive color television program bein called off on account of the star comin down with a cold. It's one thing for me to call off a day's plowin for that reason, even if it is in natural color, but any race of people smart enough to send color pictures through the air ought to be smart enough to whip a cold.

I know we probably have too many fillin stations and grocery stroes and I know we've got too much cotton and butter, and we ought to find room for one more.

If you'll go in with me, we'll launch the National Bad Cold Drive, with President Eisenhower as honorary head, as I understand he's already come down four times with a cold since he's been in office, and raise enough money to put some scientists on the job with instructions to isolate the germs and figure out a vaccine.

Any country able to split an atom, fly 1500 miles an hour, build a car that shifts its own gears, sell canned biscuits, and run up a national debt of 275 billion dollars, ought to be able to figure out how to prevent a cold. Let's get this organization goin.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

ALLEN —
Sprinkle, Texas, about 31 miles southwest of Rockdale, on November 7, 1919. He has been practicing law in Rockdale since September, 1951, handling only civil cases.

After public schools in Georgetown, Williamson County, Allen worked in the House of Representatives of Texas from 1935 to 1938. Here he gained experience that he feels is valuable to him now in the office he seeks and fits in well, too, with his educational background.

Allen volunteered for duty in the service of his country, serving from 1942 to November, 1945. He entered the Air Corps as a Private and during the interim rose to the rank of staff sergeant.

A tail gunner on a B-26 Bomber, Allen completed 25 missions over France and Germany, receiving the E.A.M.E. Campaign Medal with three Bronze Stars, Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, Distinguished Unit Badge and other lesser awards.

Following his discharge, Allen entered the University of Texas in 1946 where he attended both regular and summer terms while working half-time with the Texas Employment Commission. He received his law degree in January, 1950 from the University of Texas School of Law.

It was in September of 1951 that he opened his civil law office in Rockdale, in partnership with James Miller, now District Attorney of Milam county.

Allen has always had a great interest in civic affairs and community development projects. He twice has served as Commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post; is senior Steward of Masonic Lodge of Rockdale; past clerk of the Vestry of St. Thomas Episcopal Church of Rockdale; is Government Appeal Agent of the Milam County Draft Board; chairman of the Legal Committee of Carlyle Post, American Legion; was named Man of the Week by the Lions Club of Rockdale; served as chairman of the Red Cross fund drive in Rockdale for 1952.

Allen is also a member of the Milam County Bar Association, Rockdale Chamber of Commerce, and the Texas Bar Association. He served as fund campaign chairman to complete St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

In asking to serve as representative of Milam and Robertson counties, Allen says he has every reason to believe he is fully qualified for the office and plans to make an active campaign.

"I will certainly appreciate the vote and support of the people of this area," he said.

Demonstration On Controlling Cut Ants Slated in Rockdale March 5

J. D. Moore, County Agent

Neal M. Randolph and Dr. V. A. Little, Extension Entomologist from A & M College, will give a demonstration on controlling cut ants with Methyl Bromide, in Rockdale, Friday afternoon, on March 5, at 2:30.

The demonstration will be held on the new High School site, back of the football field. To reach the site drive out Murray street toward the Coffield Addition, it will be on the left just before you reach the Addition on the right.

This is the best time of the year to control cut ants and the time spent at this demonstration may pay big dividents in preventing the destruction that may follow later in the Spring.

The Entomology Department at A & M College considers the Methyl Bromide control method the most thorough.

Moore Gives New Insecticides For Controlling Flies

J. D. Moore, County Agent

Several inquiries have been made in recent months concerning new insecticides that are effective for controlling species of flies known to be resistant to DDT and other chlorinated hydrocarbons. House flies in Texas have been known to be resistant to DDT since 1947.

Fly control experiments were conducted during 1953 with several organic phosphorus compounds. The compound malathion was included in the tests. This new organic phosphorus compound is less toxic to animals than the older phosphorus compounds, such as TEPP and parathion. It is not recommended for use in spraying animals and directions for using should be followed as given on labels.

Malathion is on the market as an emulsion concentrate, usually at 57 per cent strength. It may be applied as residual sprays to walls and other surfaces about barns but the material must not be allowed to come in contact with feed. If used, feed troughs should be covered with gunny sacks, tarps, or similar coverings. Malathion gave good fly reduction for 3 weeks as a 1.25 per cent spray. Good fly reduction continued for 7 to 8 weeks with 2.5 per cent spray.

The following amounts are approximated to nearest convenient measurements. To make one gallon of a 1.25 percent malathion spray, mix 5 tablespoons of 57 percent malathion emulsifiable concentrate in one gallon of water. Twenty-five gallons of a 1.25 per cent malathion spray can be made by adding 1-2 gallon of 57 percent malathion emulsifiable concentrate to 24 1-2 gallons of water. One gallon of a 2.5 percent malathion spray may be prepared by mixing 10 tablespoons of 57 percent malathion concentrate in one gallon of water. Add one gallon of 57 percent malathion emulsifiable concentrate to 24 gallons of water to make 25 gallons of 2.5 percent malathion spray.

Fly baits also may be prepared containing malathion at 5 percent and 5 percent strengths with sugar concentrations of 2.5 percent and 25 percent plus 10 percent dried whey as an attractant. The sugar and dried whey are not necessary but the sugar retards evaporation of the bait mixture and the dried way attracts the flies. A good practice method of applying the material in cattle barns and poultry houses is to use old mop strings, about 18 inches long, tied at about 2 feet intervals on masons cord, soaked in the solution, and suspended from the ceiling or ceiling joists. Flies usually rest on the ceilings at night and consequently most of them are attracted to the treated strings. This method of applying malathion gave good fly reduction for 7 to 8 weeks. Malathion sprays and dusts have proven effective for controlling aphids, some species of spider mites, whiteflies, mealybugs, certain scale insects, and a few other species of insects.

The figures included in the following calculations are not exact but represent convenient measurements. A 5 percent malathion bait may be prepared by mixing 5 tablespoons of 57 percent malathion emulsifiable concentrate in one quart of water. This amount usually is sufficient for saturating enough strings to treat the average cattle barn or chicken house. Use 1 1-2 cups to 24 tablespoons of 57 percent malathion emulsifiable concentrate in one quart of water to make a 25 percent malathion bait.

Pilot "Contacts" Wild Jaguar Aboard Plane

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lucas of Minerva received the following clipping from their daughter, Mrs. Everett R. Francis of Plantation, Florida. The article appeared in a Florida newspaper and read as follows:

"Everett R. Francis, 35, 385 Bayberry Dr., has a wild animal tale to tell his children. It's about the jaguar he found beside him when he awoke from a short snooze abord a plane.

Second captain aboard an Aerovias Sub Americano plane, Francis awoke when something nuzzled his foot. Flashing on a light, he saw a five-foot jaguar just out of the Amazon River jungles.

Francis scrambled into the pilot's cabin and the jaguar fled in the opposite direction. The plane crew radioed to St. Petersburg, its destination that a vicious animal had gnawed its way out of a crate. A crew of wild animal experts headed by Miss Trudie Jerkins, co-owner of the Tarpoon Zoo at Tarpon Springs, worked for two hours after the plane landed getting the jaguar back into its cage.

The plane, on which Francis was making his first flight for the airline, was loaded with a wild animal cargo from Leitica, Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis moved to Plantation from St. Petersburg. Their children are Bobby, 5 and Betsy 2 1-2. An Air Force flier during World War II Francis was a pilot for the U. S. Airline out of Broward International Airport before taking his present job."

Mrs. Francis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lucas of Minerva and the sister of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McCullin of Cameron.

Shortage of Good Planting Field Seeds Predicted

The Texas farmers will be facing another perflexed problem this year when planting season rolls around once more. The cotton acreage has been reduced and this land must be planted in feed crops.

Because of this, it has been predicted that there will be a possible shortage of good field seed and farmers are urged to purchase their field seed needs at an early date.

It was reported that some seed houses are already short of some items and they predict that there will not be enough planting seed available to replace the acreage normally used for cotton crops.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Handy and Easy "Sign Up"

Last month's safety drive was a big success—almost. Every one helped—the schools ran movies on safe driving, Rotary put up posters, and Handy and Easy Peters went out on their own.

The boys put up a big sign by the side of the highway. It said, "Slow down—the life you save may be your own." It was a good idea—after the police moved the sign back twelve feet.

In their enthusiasm Handy and Easy put it too close to the road—in fact, right on the sharpest curve on the highway. They made driving unsafe by cutting off the view around the curve.

From where I sit, lots of people—even though they mean well—suffer from short-sightedness now and again. For instance, some can never see any further than their own preferences. They even go so far as to object to my choice of a glass of beer with supper. Shouldn't we always take the "long view". . . and respect our neighbors' rights?

HORSTMANN BROTHERS

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED

Every day we hear of the distress, need, or adversity of one of our fellow citizens. Sometimes the need is close at home, sometimes it is at a far distant point. No matter where, each of us has an impulse to help—animpulse as old as the human heart.

But as individuals we frequently can do little. No one of us can afford to make a sizeable contribution to every person whose trouble or plight appeals to us. All of us banded together, however, each giving what he can afford, will save lives, restore health, or bring comfort and happiness to many in distress.

Through the American Red Cross each of us may make his contribution easily and efficiently.

By joining the Red Cross we are there to restore the shattered home of a disaster victim; to give emergency help to the family of a serviceman; to provide lifesaving and health restoring blood for the ill and injured; to brighten the weary hours of a hospital patient; to help save and revive a drowning child.

Chartered by Congress and charged with important and specific responsibilities, the Red Cross has been meeting the needs of thousands of stricken or troubled men and women and children each day for more than 70 years.

Only the participation of all of us makes that neighborly service possible. Answer the call of your Red Cross—Join and serve your fellow men. The local drive starts March 1.

An ice cream float with cookies was served from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a George Washington motif. SHARPE — the remainder of his life.

After finishing public school and business training, Mr. Sharpe went into the confectionery business and operated the Palace of Sweets up until 1933 when he sold that business to his brother-in-law, Fred Reno, and established his modern jewelry and gift store.

He had served as chairman of the board of stewards in his church at one time and held various other church offices. He was president of The Methodist Men two years ago; was a member and past president of Cameron Rotray Club; was a director of Cameron Country Club and a member of both the Masonic and Knights of Pythias Lodges. Through the years he had been affiliated with the civic and service organizations which helped his town progress.

Mr. Sharpe loved young people and had helped and befriended numerous boys and girls, many of whom are now men and women living in distant places, but returning to Cameron, they seldom passed without stopping by for Mr. Sharpe's big hearty welcome and friendly word.

Mr. Sharpe and Miss Nell Reno, member of a pioneer Cameron family, were married October 28, 1913. Mrs. Sharpe survives him as do his brother, Raymond Sharpe, and sister, Mrs. Pope Sapp, both of Cameron. He also leaves several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at First Methodist Church Sunday at 2:30 p.m. by the pastor, Dr. Mark C. Magers, assisted by Rev. John Solomon of First Presbyterian Church. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery.

Honorary pall bearers were the board of stewards of First Methodist Church, members of Cameron Rotary Club and the Masonic Lodge and Knights of Pythias.

Active pallbearers were Bartowis, George Childress, Lester Will-Jackson, Erle Burke, Jack DuBoiams, Dwight Moody, Thelbert Crittenden, and Franklyn Dusek.

has been named honorary chairman of the campaign.

Prescott and Smith said that Milam county's share (61.2 percent) of the 1954 funds will be used to pay the county's part in blood program, to provide home service to veterans, service men and their families, and to pay the the salary of a part time secretary serving the whole county.

Funds contributed to the National Red Cross, it was further explained, will be used for distress relief, service to armed forces and veterans, blood program, health and safety services and general management.

The National Red Cross estimated expense in 1954 for all planning and administration is less than 5 per cent of the total budget, officials declared.

In 1953, out of every dollar contributed by Texans to the National Red Cross, 34.5 cents came back to Texas in disaster relief, Smith said.

City and community Red Cross campaign chairmen announced thus far in Milam county are as follows:

Floyd Stark, Buckholts; Bob Foster, Branchville; Mrs. Eddie Gooch, Belmena; Woodrow Lowe and Jimmie Asher, Cameron; Mrs. Val Wise, Hanover; Mrs. Dick Young, Jones Prairie; Mrs. Charles Robinson, Liberty; Mrs. W. C. Freeman, Mayafield; Mrs. George Hilliard, Milano; Robert C. Nelson, Rockdale; Tom Holcomb, Thorndale; and Mrs. H. H. Chamberlain, Walker's Creek.

tely redesign our rural roads to fit present needs," he said.

Judge Smith said that the program he was submitting to the Farm Bureau members was without the knowledge of other members of the commissioner's court. He pointed out that the state highway department has designed primary and secondary systems containing 310.4 miles of the most essential roads and that these roads, together with existing highways and FM roads, would give the county a total of 525 miles of improved rural roads serving 92 percent of Milam County's rural population.

"The primary system contains 176.5 miles of the most heavily traveled roads in the county", Judge Smith said, "and these roads are also school bus and mail routes. To build these roads to highway department standards will cost approximately $2,000,000 if they are built at one time on a competitive bid basis."

He pointed out that the only way the system can be built at one time is to raise the money by issuing general obligation bonds to be paid over the life span of the roads.

Judge Smith said that such bonds, in sufficient amount, can be issued without increasing the present total state and county tax rate of $1.47. This is true because in 1955 the amount of state ad valorem tax which the county is required to collect will be decreased by 30 cents per $100 valuation."

Smith explained that this requirement was placed upon the county in 1934 when the legislature passed the tax remission law requiring 10 counties in the Brazos watershed, including Milam, to make such a levy for 20 years.

"It was unfortunate that Milam County was covered by this legislation", Smith said, "for it has meant that over half a million dollars has been taken from our taxpayers in the ensuing 20 years for which we have received little, if any, benefit".

Judge Smith said the county's secondary road system can be constructed and paid for under a staged program of three to five years after completion of the primary system with the saving resulting from reduced maintenance costs on the primary system.

"The construction of the secondary system would be accomplished under the 'unit system,' 'explained the judge," and thereafter the entire county road system would be administered and maintained under the direction of a competent county road engineer, with resulting economy."

Smith also said that he proposed that the development of the county road program be under the security of a citizens advisory committee, comprised of successful business men and taxpayers appointed by the county judge.

In closing his address, Judge Smith asked the Farm Bureau members to give serious consideration to the plan and to endorse it and assist him in bringing it into early existence.

Following Smith's address, a dinner was served on the grounds of the Hall and music by the Jolly Ramblers broke into the prepared program. Rev. John S. Solomon, pastor, First Presbyterian church, said the Grace before the meal.

During the afternoon, awards were made to Bruce Lindsey of Cameron who won the 4-H club trophy for raising the Milam county grand champion dairy heifer and to Johnny Gelner of Ad Hall, and a Cameron FFA student, who raised the reserve champion Hereford, and Rex McClaren, Cameron, for having the reserve dairy heifer. J. D. Moore, county agent, and Billie Mitchell, feed company representative, presented the trophy and awards.

Raymond C. Morrison of Waco, a representative of the Blue Cross Hospitalization, gave a brief talk. Austin Crownover of Waco, and Director of Sales in the Service Program of the State Farm Bureau office, was introduced and added a few words.

Other feaures of the afternoon program included a song by Joy West, Buckholts; a skit by Buckholts students; talks by William F. Arthur, county Farm Bureau service agent; a magic act by Mr. Wimpee; and entertainment by a Milano school group.

The annual event was climaxed by a drawing of Milam county boys and girls in the swine program.

Sharon Swanzy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Swanzy of Burlington, and Bertha Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Miller, Burlington, drew the swine.

Mary Ann Swanzy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Swanzy of Burlington and Alice Marie Oltmer, daughetr of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oltmer of Davilla, received $10 and $5 respectively from the farm bureau for ability shown in raising chickens.

County Home Demonstration Clubs displayed several booths and exhibits during the day. The Hoyte H.D. Club had a display, surprise packages, tinting of china and handwork. The Clarkson H. D. Club gave away a quilt which was won by Paul F. Fuchs of Buckhotls.

munity were asked to visit the school for half a day or more and report on factors of effective teaching as they were observed in the classrooms of Yoe High School and Ada Henderson School.

Representing this committee on the program Monday night will be Mrs. Jim McKeown, William Vogelsang, Mrs. Edwin Adams, Calvin Markham, and Mrs. Charles Smith. Also on the program will be Miss Mary Randolph and Miss Dallie Young, representing the faculty of the schools.

This program of teaching evaluation is part of a statewide program to change the methods of accrediting our public schools. This should prove of interest to patrons of our local schools since it is especially adapted for the evaluation of local methods under actual existing conditions in the classrooms.

All parents and interested persons are invited to come to this program and to stay for the social hour which will be held in the Homemaking Department following the meeting.

During Texas Education Week, March 1, to March 5, all patrons of the Cameron School District are cordially invited to visit the public schools at any time during the day.
